Chocolate Roll Capital of the World™

For generations, people in Searcy County have been baking and enjoying a dessert that few folks outside these parts have ever heard of. Namely chocolate rolls! Can anyone doubt that Searcy County is the Home of the Chocolate Roll™? In 2017, USA Today selected Searcy County as its Food Capital to represent all of Arkansas as Searcy County is the Chocolate Roll Capital of the World™. Reader's Digest July/August 2021 recognized our cultural dessert, the chocolate roll, as the Best Dessert in Arkansas! Searcy County is the home of the Chocolate Roll Festival, who's centerpiece is the World Champion Chocolate Roll Contest. This is a unique competition of local bakers to see who is the World Champion Chocolate Roll maker. In 2020 "Operation Chocolate Roll" involved an airlift of 500 chocolate rolls from the Searcy County Buffalo River 4A5 Airport in Marshall to Jonesboro, a new World Record flight of chocolate rolls! In 2023 the airlift was re-accomplished, this time with 1,500 chocolate rolls and another new World Record! Both times, the late Sharon Lewis of Leslie was the baker of the chocolate rolls. She was a five-time Chocolate Roll Contest Winner and World Champion!

Kenda Drive-in!!

The Kenda Drive-In in Marshall is one of the Natural State's treasures and celebrated its 55th anniversary in 2021!

The Kenda is Arkansas' only drive-in movie theater that is open year round, and one of only two drive-in's left in the entire state! Locals can still be heard talking about "going to the show." The "show" is what's playing at the Kenda For flatlanders and mountain folk alike, the Kenda means friends, family, food, and lots of fun!

Of course the favorite way to watch a movie at the Kenda is from the back of your truck sitting in a lawn chair, all wrapped up in a blanket. The 72 foot wide screen is lit up with a first run feature each night. Movie audio is provided by either digital FM radio sound or traditional speakers, and heaters are even provided for winter viewing. And talk about affordable! Where else can you take the family out these days and not break the bank? Kenda's regular admission price is $6 for adults, and children under 12 free are with parents. A $2 admission applies for ages 6-11 for kid's movies. Get a "show burger" and a big bucket of buttered popcorn for another $5 and you beat just the cost of admission at many theaters!

Hunting and Fishing in Searcy County

Riley Kate Harness and her trophy deer killed in 2024 in Searcy County!

With four Wildlife Management Areas, two National Forests and the Buffalo National River, Searcy County offers thousands of wooded acres for your next hunt. Whitetail deer are the prime target for large game hunters, but in 2015 the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission (AGFC) ranked Searcy County as the #1 place to hunt black bear in all of the Ozarks.

If you're looking for an elk hunting Searcy County is the Elk Hunting Capital of Arkansas! Searcy County led the state of Arkansas in elk harvest numbers in 2022, as it does every year. The Elk Program Coordinator for the AGFC, said the initial 2023 tally of elk was up about 5 percent from 2022. Since habitat work in Richland Valley began, he says he's seen as many as 300 elk in one morning at that location. Historically, they see about 40 bulls per 100 cows and about the same ratio of calves to cows. In 2022 Billy Harris harvested the Largest Gross Scoring Elk ever in Arkansas! Also the new state nontypical record, Gross 373 2/8, Net 357 6/8!

Wild turkey, rabbit, squirrel, bobwhite quail, dove and various furbearers, coyote and even wild hogs roam the county. Of all the varieties of fish swimming in our rivers and creeks, smallmouth bass, catfish and sunfish are the most popular. You might even catch the occasional trout making their way up the Buffalo. Hunting and fishing licenses are sold in store throughout the county.

We have horse stable/lodging destinations and more than 100 miles of horseback riding trails with some of the most enjoyable and scenic horseback riding in the state of Arkansas! Ride in the Ozark National Forest of both western and northeastern Searcy County as well as in the confines of the Buffalo National River! The big trail ride of the year is the annual Falling Water Trail Ride during the first weekend of October. Riders begin the trail from either the Woolum Campground or Snowball Gym.

#12 Richland Waterfalls Welcome Center. This waterfalls welcome center in Witts Springs is the ideal starting place to visit before exploring the 30-plus waterfalls in the Richland Creek Watershed. Free to visit! Restrooms and tourist information available.

#13 Outdoor Photography & Bird Watching. With our Ozark Mountains, rural farm landscapes, historic old buildings, waterfalls, dark night skies, elk herds, bald eagles and other wildlife, the Buffalo River, and four seasons, we are a photographer's dream destination! Searcy County also has two designated "Important Bird Areas," the Ozark National Forest and the Buffalo National River!

#14 Museums and Art. We are the home of Essie Treat Ward, the Grandma Moses of the Ozarks! Some of her paintings are on display at the Jim G. Ferguson Searcy County Library in Marshall. Art is also on display upstairs in the Searcy County Courthouse in Marshall and at the Ozark Heritage Arts Center in Leslie, where there is also a museum. The Searcy County Veterans Memorial Museum in Marshall honors local veterans. In St. Joe, don't miss the St. Joe Depot Museum! The Buffalo River Historic Jail & Museum in Marshall tells the story of the land and people of the Buffalo River Watershed. Fabulous rotating art exhibits are on display in the Ozark Heritage Arts Center Gallery in Leslie!

#15 Genealogy at the Searcy County Library. If you are interested in family genealogy, the Searcy County Library is the place to research. The Searcy County Library has a greatly expanded genealogy department and research area. For more information contact the library at www.searcycountylibrary.com.

Unique Rock Formations

Visible from Highway 65, just south of the Silver Hill area north of Marshall (or as a guest at Bear Creek Log Cabins), you'll find stone buttresses along the bluff. These rare and beautiful rock formations are caused by water erosion and, according to the Arkansas Geological Survey, have been located in only two places in Arkansas.

ATV / Jeep Riding

What better way to experience the rugged landscape of Searcy County than from an ATV or Jeep? Whether you're on an established trail, logging road, old rail bed, or a single-track dirt road, taking in the views from an off-road vehicle will make for an afternoon adventure you won't soon forget!

Bear Creek Log Cabins near Marshall has a 1,200 acre family-friendly paradise perfect for ATV riding. Numerous ATV, UTV day and night rides and Jeep excursions are held throughout Searcy County! "The 2nd Annual Jeepin' It Classy will be held in downtown Leslie on October 11th!" Please consult our Calendar for event dates.

Ozark Grinder Trail

The Ozark Grinder Trail is a gravel grinder bicycle trail covering approximately 200 miles and 13,000 feet of elevation in some of the most wild, scenic, and remote parts of the north central Arkansas Ozarks! From Gilbert and St. Joe, through Tyler Bend at Buffalo National River and all the way to Fairfield Bay, Arkansas it climbs and descends steep grades and makes many creek crossings. Do not attempt dangerous water crossings! Turn around, don't drown! The Ozark Grinder Trail is now awarding completer patches to riders who ride the entire straight-through segment, a 134-mile trail between Gilbert and Fairfield Bay. It sports almost 13,000 feet in elevation! The ride can be started from either end. Inform the chamber of commerce of your accomplishment. 870-448-2557. E-bikes also welcome!

The Ozark Grinder Trail now has a loop trail! Also qualifies for a completer patch. Almost 151 miles and 13,000+ feet of elevation! Mixed surface cycling! Take in gorgeous scenery as you encircle Marshall and hit spots such as the town of Gilbert, Harriet, Leslie, Witts Springs, Eula, Snowball, and Silver Hill! The cycling challenge of the Ozarks! Created by cyclist Dirk Merle! You can be without cell phone service at times. Ride with a partner. Check it out here: www.facebook.com/OzarkGrinderTrail

Rock Climbing

Searcy County has multiple known rock climbing locations! Prohibition Wall, located on the east side of Richland Creek Road in Horseshoe Holler, aka Bearcat Holler, near the other rock climbing location at Stack Rock on the west side of Richland Creek Road! Prohibition is one of the steepest walls in Arkansas at a consistent 45-50 degree overhang with absolutely stellar routes in the 5.11-5.13 range. The rock climbing destinations are about 16 miles from Witts Springs, just off the Richland Creek Road. Always leave a trip plan with someone before embarking on back-country adventures. Rock Climbing in Prohibition Wall, North-Central Arkansas www.mountainproject.com/area/108151880/prohibition-wall

Stack Rock is a great rock climbing location along the Richland Creek Road! It's the Devil's Tower of Searcy County and offers 85 climbs! Parking off Richland Creek Road at the Stack Rock Special Interest Area. Stack Rock offers a multitude of high-quality routes in a very secluded and remote setting. The crag has some unique features and walls not typically seen elsewhere in Arkansas. One interesting feature is that the crag wraps all the way around, creating a type of crown. This 360 crag offers shade or sun all day, and also has some steeper features that stay dry in light rain. Rock Climbing in Stack Rock, North-Central Arkansas www.mountainproject.com/area/107595946/stack-rock

Rock climbing is allowed at the Buffalo National River, but no permanent anchors are allowed! You may use temporary anchors that do not deface the rock. Also, please don't climb at archeological sites, like shelter bluffs. Our local rock is not great rock for climbing, so safety is paramount! No granite rock here, but there is a lot of sandstone that can break easily. Take proper safety precautions!

It has been said that Arkansas “may be the Best place in the world for beginning rock climbers!”

Disc Golf in Leslie

Leslie has disc golf!! In 2016 the city of Leslie through the Leslie Area Merchants Association opened a 9 hole disc golf course. The first and only public one in Searcy County, situated along Cove Creek.

The course is open year round. For great exercise and a fun outing that the whole family can enjoy, stop in and play a round or two. There is no charge. For more information about the Disc Golf course in Leslie, check out the article on the Searcy County Chamber web site.

Mountain Homestead Natural Area

The Mountain Homestead Natural Area is just outside Marshall at the very end of Range Street. It is home to 1.46 miles of multiuse trails! Mountain Biking & Hiking! Nature Trail! Dark Night Sky Viewing! Bird Watching! Great place to walk and soak up nature! Pets must be on a leash. Two trails. The Meadow Homestead Trail and the Mountain Shadow Trail at Dead Bear Farm. Majestic Bald Eagle perched at the Boone Buttresses along Bear Creek, Bear Creek Log Cabins between St. Joe and Marshall.

In 2019, the chamber placed a double-sided historic marker commemorating our native son Elton Britt, the first Country Music artist to ever be awarded a Gold Record! We raised all the money for this project from the chamber treasury, donations, and matching funds from Modern Woodmen. We hope this marker will be part of an Arkansas Music Trail. It is also located on the grounds of the Buffalo River Historic Jail & Museum, located inside the 1902 historic jail in Marshall.

Marshall

Great Place to Visit, Tremendous Place to Live!

Marshall is one of Arkansas's finest mountain towns and holds the distinction as the largest city in the Buffalo River Watershed! Located just a few miles south of the Buffalo National River, Marshall is also centrally located between two segments of the Ozark National Forest. Wild elk roam just outside the city limits! Marshall was designated a 2021 Trendsetter City by Arkansas Business magazine by winning Honorable Mention in Wellness and Fitness for the new Raccoon Springs City Park and Honorable Mention in Tourism Development /Creative Culture for the Buffalo River Historic Jail & Museum! Searcy County Community of the Year 2024!

The town also serves as the corporate headquarters for Boston Mountain Rural Health Center, Inc. and is served by numerous clinics as well as Highland Court, a rehabilitation and resident care facility. Marshall has two excellent campuses for Marshall Elementary School and Marshall High School. The Searcy County Veterans Memorial Hall has an incredible museum of local military history and the Searcy County Library is one of Arkansas's finest public libraries with historic art and displays and a renowned genealogy department! Marshall has high-speed broadband internet delivered by Kinetic Windstream and Ritter Communications! It also has several industrial buildings and nearby available industrial real estate. Marshall is the county seat of Searcy County and hosts the fabulous Searcy County Airport-4A5, a 4000x75 ft. lighted runway, 24-hour self-serve fuel, tie-downs, very nice pilot lounge, courtesy car, and overnight hangar space as available.

Scenic US Highway 65 transits Marshall and is a highly traveled route to Branson, Missouri and the Buffalo National River, America's 1st National River! The scenic overlook above Marshall is one of the finest panoramic scenes in all of Arkansas and comes with a roadside park, coffee shop, historic marker, and interpretive sign. This is a great selfie spot! Just northwest of town along US Highway 65 sits the Smith Barn, one of the most photographed barns in all of Arkansas! The Kenda Drive-In movie theater is the town's leading tourism attraction. It's one of only two drive-ins in Arkansas and the only one running year-round. Marshall is also home of the Searcy County Fairgrounds and the annual county fair each September. Next door to the fairgrounds, the Flintrock Saddle Club Rodeo Grounds host both annual rodeos and bull riding events! The Searcy County Farmer's Market is located near downtown at the old berry shed and operates two days a week in the warmer months.

Ozark Mountain Country

Searcy County is Ozark Mountain Country! Cresting Backbone Mountain just south of Marshall at the roadside park, and again leaving Marshall heading north on US Highway 65, the motorist will see one of Arkansas' most panoramic views looking west towards Point Peter Mountain that stands prominent at 2,040 feet above sea level. West of Snowball is Searcy County's highest elevation, Horn Mountain, which soars to 2,203 feet above sea level. State Highway 27 transits just to the west of 2,032 foot high Reves Knob and the Middle Fork of the Little Red River.

Up, down, and around go our roads traversing river bottoms, running along ridge lines, and descending into hollows. This is a rough but beautiful land that is home to old pioneer families and newcomers alike. (There is an 11% grade descending off the mountain into the town of Leslie!

Searcy County Agriculture

Agriculture has always been, and continues to be, a large part of Searcy County life. Searcy County is beef cattle country! Bottom-land hay fields and cattle pastures on rolling hillsides are commonplace throughout the county. The county continues to have some dairy production as well. Small farms also produce goats and goat products, as well as hogs, turkeys, chickens, and rabbits. There are numerous horses in Searcy County, most used for horseback riding. Ratchford Farms raises bison locally and sends 35 to 40 for processing each year. Small farms produce eggs, honey, bedding plants, garden vegetables, pumpkins and blueberries. The Ozarks are known for their black walnuts and Searcy County is a significant producer. Locals harvest wild blackberries and both tame and wild muscadine grapes. Small-scale goat-milk soap production takes place locally. The county also has a thriving timber industry which contributes greatly to the local economy. Hardwood timber is the primary harvest that feeds several county sawmills. Pallets, pallet parts, railroad ties, lumber, landscape timbers and fencing are produced locally. There is also retail and wholesale utensil woodworking using local hardwood, in addition to a large-scale, kiln dried hardwood lumber operation. For more information about farming, farm production or relocating your farming operation to Searcy County, contact the Searcy County Extension office at 870-448-3981. The County Extension Agent office is located at 511 Zack Road, Marshall, AR 72650.

World-Class Hiking in Searcy County

The Ozark Highlands Trail (OHT) traverses the beautiful and rugged portion of western Searcy County to include following along the Richland Valley to the Buffalo National River. The trail has been noted as one of the top 10 long distance hiking trails in the US by the Guardian! Also noted by Outside magazine as one of the World's Seven Great Winter Backpacking Trips! Come see for yourself! Rocky Mountain Elk, Bald Eagles, and Black Bear may be seen along the journey. Contact one of our Searcy County outfitters.

The OHT begins at Lake Fort Smith State Park and runs east to the Buffalo River Trail System at Woolum. It continues down river past the Highway 65 Bridge, and all the way to the Highway 14 Bridge in Marion County, approximately 208 miles!

The newest section in Searcy County is a 28-mile segment which goes along the south side of the Buffalo River from Highway 65 to Highway 14. The trail runs east of Tyler Bend to Red Bluff Road and then on to the South Maumee Road to the Highway 14 Bridge. South Maumee Road to the Spring Creek Road is 5.3 miles and Spring Creek Road to The Highway 14 Bridge is 6.1 miles. Depending on the season, you can see bluff lines, waterfalls, and ice formations. Also from high vantage points along the trail, you can see the Buffalo National River far below! The Trail is 24 inches wide, very often going across steep hillsides. But the trail itself is designed to avoid any grades steeper than 10%.

Check out hiking options at searcycountyarkansas.org/attractions/world-class-hiking/. Hiking is also available at the Stem Rock Natural Area near Oxley, and on the north side of the Buffalo National River, both upstream and downstream from Gilbert. The Mountain Homestead Natural Area is just outside Marshall at the very end of Range Street! 1.46 miles of Multiuse Trails! Great place to walk and soak up nature! Pets must be on a leash.

Searcy County Ozarks offer some of the finest trail riding experiences east of the Rocky Mountains, with miles of scenic trails at both private horse camps and on public lands! Horses are permitted on the Buffalo River Trail from Woolum to Gilbert.
